THE Ahmadiyya Muslim Elders Association held an inter-faith peace conference entitled World Crisis And The Pathway To Peace, on Saturday at the Sir Julien Cahn Pavilion, West Bridgford.

The event started with recitation of the Koran and translation by Imam Fakhar Ahmed Aftab.

An introduction to the Ahmadiyya Muslim community was given by Dr Irfan Malik.

This was followed by the formal signing of an armed forces covenant by Dr Malik with Commander Martin Clegg, representing the Royal Naval Reserve, in the presence of Lt Cdr Hannah MacKenzie and Col David Sneath, High Sheriff of Nottinghamshire.

The covenant is a pledge that the association is an armed forces friendly-fundraise for the British Legion Poppy Appeal. We recognise the value of serving personnel, veterans and their families," said a spokesman.

Also present among the 94 guests were the Mayor of Rushcliffe, Councillor Barrie Cooper and Mrs Cooper; the chairman of Nottinghamshire County Council, Councillor John Handley, and Mrs Handley; the Sheriff of Nottingham, Glynn Jenkins; the chairman of Nottinghamshire Royal British Legion, Pete Hopkins; and the Rev Ken Johnson, secretary of Nottinghamshire Standing Advisory Council on Religious Education.

بعض مہمانوں نے اپنے خیالات کا اظہار کیا۔

Cllr Malcolm Linton, Mayor of Newport – "It was interesting to learn that your organisation has a long and distinguished history within millions of members across the world. In Britain, it is one of the oldest and most established Muslim community organisations. It has been part of the fabric of this country for more than a century. In recent years, nationwide campaign promoting loyalty, freedom, equality, respect and peace has reached many people in the UK including Newport. It is one we can only embrace as we want fair and peaceful community for everybody. Please continue your excellent awareness raising work in Wales and in the rest of the country."

Cllr Rod McKerlich, Deputy Lord Mayor of Cardiff – "The celebrations like this are the core to bring people together and help improve understanding of our different faiths and enable us to share any common values. Cardiff has a long and proud history of welcoming people from a wide range of backgrounds and faiths to our city and we welcome and value this diversity. We are all greatly enriched by the diversity of faiths and cultures who called our city home. We believe it has helped shape Cardiff as the most livable cities in the Europe."

Jeff Cuthbert, Police and Crime Commissioner Gwent – "Love for All Hatred for None is the sort of message that we at Gwent police and I am sure I am speaking to my colleagues in SWP, Dinas Powys and North Wales police as well would like to spread and adopt as our own."

Revd Aled Edwards OBE, Secretary of Interfaith Council for Wales – " As people of faith we are constantly called to challenge but in our behaviour with each other may we also remember that we have a call to be kind, to be just and to be gracious. It is not always easy to be person of faith, I know that you as a community has faced enormous challenges of hate."

Mohammad Asghar, Member of Welsh Assembly – "Ahmadiyya Muslim Community is the backdrop of kindness, peace and love."

Alexander Willis – " Your motto of Love for All Hatred for None, for me it really resonated with me, not only because it's a motto, I firmly believe, we all should live by no matter what race, colour and creed. It's simple, straight forward, incredibly memorable and definitely effective and it's great. If all people chose to live out this message in their daily lives then whole world will be a much better place. The world in which Love for all hatred for none takes centre stage then there is no room of resentments and divisions."

Charity Cheque Presentation

At the end, charity cheques were presented to the Mayor charities of Cardiff and Newport.
